STEEL COMPANY TO TAKE OVER COMBINED TRACTS

River Coal to be Taken Over by Pittsburg Coal Company Which in Turn May Sell to Steel Company

CONDITIONS AT THE DUNLEVY MINE

Indications continue to point to the taking over of the entire Pittsburg Coal company's holdings in Western Pennsylvania by the United States Steel corporation, after the former concern has absorbed the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company's coal lands. Talk to this effect has been raised by the recent announcement of the purchase of 8,000 acres of the Pittsburg Coal by the steel corporation and the announcement made a few days ago by the Pittsburg Coal company by a circular to the stockholders of the combine to secure a consolidation of the River coal with the Pittsburg coal company.

The Pittsburg Coal company, owning more coal in Western Pennsylvania than any other company, and the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company, owning considerable coal along the Monongahela valley, have always been closely affiliated. Hence there was not much surprise when the news of the proposed absorption of the River Coal by the Pittsburg concern was made public.

It is stated that the United States Steel corporation, which has had a 25-year contract with the Pittsburg Coal company has dissolved the contract and will secure the Pittsburg Coal to conserve. But the United States Steel corporation will need coal for their Gary, Ind., plant and coal from the Monongahela river. It will be the most suitable coal along this valley is among the best to be found anywhere and can be used for coking or steam and as. The Illinois coal has been found practically unsuitable by the United

Church League Executives to Play Managers

"Some" Game Being Arranged to Take Place After Close of Season

As a fitting climax to a most successful season of the Charleroi Church league, a game will be played most likely between a team from the members of the executive committee and one from the managers of the church league. At a meeting of the executive committee held Monday night a committee was appointed to arrange such a contest. The executive committee is composed of such talent as Dr. Edwin McKay, W. D. Pollock, Prof. I. T. Daniel, D. C. Whitlatch, R. A. Roberts, John Cornell, B. A. Oates and Joseph Stech. It is likely they will have to call upon some assistant managers to help them out.

Referees and approvals of players were: Methodists add Archie Mason release Warren Wise; Washington Avenues add J. T. Conlin, release Ed. Michiner; Baptists add Harvey Adams and Robert McGowan, release Curris Morris and Floyd Chalfant.

Lutherans Beat Catholics in a Deciding Game

Hot Battle Waged by League Leaders and Rickey's Aggregation

Playing the game as she is played by players who know how, the Lutherans trotted off the ball ground Monday night with one of the toughest ones of the season under their belt. The game was with the Catholics, and incidentally, had enough thrills in it to last a month. Several times was it won and lost by both teams but Coach Mason's boys by a little head-work that looked nice when produced got the necessities in the sixth and held down the hard hitting Catholics in the seventh.

The Lutherans scored two in the first. After Butz had been caught between second and third and Mason had whiffed, Wertz singled to left Stech drove him in with a three bagger. When Newton pulled off a bad throw Stech came in.

After all that there was nothing doing until the fourth inning. Then the Catholics pulled around three. Kelly was safe when Motts dropped his fly to middle. Urban got first on Miller's error, on which Kelly went third. Newton was out. Deitz singled scoring both Kelly and Urban. He went second on a throw home and came home when Demarco dropped Oates' fly. The Catholics scored two in the first round. Kelly maneuvered a walk, and came the rest of the way when Urban doubted to left. Newton struck out and Deitz batted a two bagger bringing Urban in. One in the sixth completed the scoring of the Catholics. This came when Fagula landed on the ball for three sacks and came in on Sharkey's error.

When Miller was safe on McGuire's dropped ball at first in the fifth, he started negotiating for a score. He was sacrificed to second and then came around on Joe Mason's single. But the game was won in the sixth. Sharkey got a walk, and Motts attempted a sacrifice which was fumbled by Bena, making both men safe. Demarco bunted and Bena threw to third trying the impossible feat of getting Sharkey at that corner. Fleming hit the horsehide and a throw was made home, Sharkey being caught. Miller fouled out. Butz was presented with four wide ones and a run forced in. Thereupon Joseph Mason

FOUL CRIME IS SUSPECTED IN DEATH OF SMALL CHILD

Coroner's Jury Investigates Drowning at Venetia and Recommends That Reward be Offered

O'HARA BOY MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED

Believing that Glenn O'Hara, alias Glenn Harriott the little son of Walter O'Hara, who was drowned in a well near his home a short distance from Venetia on July 12, came to his death as a result of foul play, the coroner's jury at the inquest Monday conducted by Acting Coroner T. C. Bebout, recommended that the Washington county commissioners set aside a suitable sum of money to be used as a reward for the apprehension of the guilty person.

Acting Coroner Bebout who worked on the case from the time it was reported until Monday had secured all the witnesses who seemed to know anything whatever of the mystery in connection with the death of the child but none seemed able to give any direct testimony although several of the witnesses intimated in their testimony that there was something radically wrong in the child's death.

The little fellow disappeared in the morning; about 9 o'clock and his body was not found until the following midnight. The well was covered over and the boards were not displaced when the searching parties went to look in the well. There was no way apparent that the child could have fallen into the well. It had been intimated that the child might have been thrown in the well, but there is nothing to establish this, and the inquest failed to bring out anything. The child was the son of Walter O'Hara, of Venetia, and of Delia Fiz, of Canonsburg, the father and mother being divorced. The father is remarried. Before the death of the child, Glen, Mr. O'Hara had two children by his first wife, and Mrs. O'Hara, who had been married before has one child by her first marriage. In addition to these children they have one child by their recent marriage. The well was about 12 feet deep and covered over.

MANY ARTICLES ARE TURNED IN

How the Pennsylvania Railroad Cares for Lost Articles in Large Cities

Lost articles are turned in to the parcel room at Pennsylvania Station in New York City at the rate of about twenty a day: Three thousand six hundred and thirty such articles were received between the time the station was opened, November 27, 1910 and July 12, 1911. So far, the most valuable find was a pocket book containing $144 which was immediately claimed by its owner.

Approximately eighteen out of the twenty parcels received daily at this station are called for. When they are brought in they are registered in a book, a duplicate ticket is given to the finder, and a tag bearing the same form and number is attached. If at the end of ninety days, the owner has not appeared, they go back to the finder. Of course it is impossible to keep perishable goods and these are given to the finder after twelve hours.

In December 1910, there were 1,204 losses recorded at Broad Street Station in Philadelphia. Eight hundred and six of these have been returned to their owners. On May 25th of this year there were thirty pieces of lost property picked up; on the 26th and 27th there were 39 and 31 respectively. Of these 18 of the first day's were reclaimed, 10 the second and eight the third.

The books in the Union Station, Pittsburg show that 93 items were recorded during five days taken at

WERE NOT ON WAY TO OPEN A MINE

Wagons and Equipment to Build Roads Cause Some Excitement

Some excitement was caused this morning in town by a half dozen wagons loaded with what looked like miners tools being driven through on a way up the river. It was thought at they were wagons of the H. C. Erick company being taken in the direction of Beechwood for the purpose starting the opening of a proposed mine there. Investigation proved that the wagons and articles in them were wagons owned by a construction company and were being taken to West Pike Run township where work will be started on a new road.

THE RIGHT GAIT.

From the interest manifested in the baseball game of the church league Monday night, it is evident that the church league scheme is the right gauntlet for the National game in the towns. From the impending collapse of a number of the teams in the minor leagues of the smaller cities in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio, it is more than evident that professional baseball outside of the big centers of population is too expensive a luxury. This Charleroi has earned to its sorrow.

The church league, however, when rigidly maintained with regular discipline and regulations, affords about the best opportunity yet devised for developing and maintaining amateur baseball. It has been somewhat difficult to prevent some of the teams from overstepping the others in the matter of maintaining an even balance, but while three teams throughout peculiar conditions have been enabled to take the lead, the balance is not disproportionate when compared with the big leagues. This condition, however, only makes the interest all the more acute in the final windup.
As stated on numerous other occasions, the games are delightful recreation for the people. They furnish regular baseball according to rule, and the contest is close enough in the most of the games to cause intense local interest. The expense is but nominal, and the enjoyment and satisfaction is as great as in professional baseball. The church league is similar organizations where amateurs play the game for the sport there is in it, is destined to take the place of professional baseball outside the big centers of population.

GOOD TO CONSERVE.

From the trend of operations that is apparent, and the many rumors that are in the air, events seem to be shaping up for the ultimate absorption of the Pittsburg Coal company by the United States Steel corporation. First it is up to the stockholders to effect a consolidation of the two subsidiary coal companies, over which the big steel company has long exercised a sphere of influence, after which the final absorption is to take place.

Nothing is more natural than this absorption. The big steel corporation finds itself in a position where it will need a large and regular supply of the Pittsburg coal for its first-class steam, gas and coke producing qualities. The Pittsburg Coal company's holdings while large are being exhausted in competing in the general market, and the big Steel corporation presumably realizes the importance of conserving this valuable product for its own use exclusively. Capable engineers have, it is stated, estimated that in rushing out this coal at the present rate to cater to the general market will exhaust the supply in about thirty-five years. Therefore it is up to the Steel corporation to conserve the supply for its own use, as a matter of economy. The development of the gas producer now figures extensively in manufacturing iron and steel products, and no fuel is so well suited for this as the Pittsburg coal.

While the Steel corporation would only mine coal for its own use if this absorption takes place, operations would probably be steadier than when a mine is competing in the open market. At the present time one-half more mines are in operation than are necessary to supply the demand if operated steadily. The result is idle labor, price cutting, and general demoralization of the coal market. A change of any kind could hardly make conditions worse.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

The man who can sleep soundly in a street car shouldn't have much trouble if fate designed him for freight car transportation.

There certainly ought to be some legislation against these jim-jam automobile whistles. Jim-jam because they give a person the jim-jams.

When they have to raise the Ohio river artificially before they could let the members of the Rivers and Harbors committee get through, they surely demonstrated the fact that a nine-foot stage was needed.

It isn't so difficult to persuade people you are crazy nowadays. Either kill somebody or confess to a crime you know nothing about. Either way you have established the fact that you are looney.

This year has been a particularly busy one so far for big chief musses down around Washington, D. C.

The Monongahela Valley league is now declared to be a thing of the past.
Will all the "I-told-you-sos" kindly arise and proclaim themselves and have it all over with?

Some cigars smell like the animal tent of a circus after a day's camping.

Artist Earle made the mistake of his life when he wasn't made a Morman in a Mormon country. Then he could have as many wives as he darned please and it would be religious, too.

Maybe it's Madero's whiskers that are driving his followers to revel against his—Akron Times. Oh, shucks.

There is nobody who has a better opportunity to make enemies than the dog catcher, but he generally gets away with his side of the argument all the same.

Comparing the difficulties, a sugar trust isn't it with a baseball league.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In view of the disputes over the umpire's decisions in the game between the Lutherans and Catholics of the Church League Monday night, Billy Evans one of the leading American League umpires, gives some timely talk about the game as the spectator thinks he sees it, in this month's issue of Pearson's Magazine.
"During the progress of the game,"
says Evans, "no matter where the fan is sitting he invariably believes he is just as competent, and in as good a position to pass judgment on the various plays as is the umpire. Perhaps he is more competent, but if he is he is doing the game a great injustice by hiding his shining light under a bushel, when high class umpires are so decidedly scarce and so much in demand.

"I happened to have an off day in Cleveland last year, and I decided to journey out to the ball park and call on my brother umpires 'Bull' Per-vine and Bill Dinneen had been assigned to the game. I told them I intended to take a seat in the grand stand to look them over, and they laughingly assented.

"Bill Dinneen worked the bases and it seemed as if every decision was close. Philadelphia was the opposing team, and despite the closeness of many of the plays, there was scarcely a kick from any of the players. Cleveland was losing, however, and the fans made considerable fuss over several of the rulings on the bases by Dinneen. From where I was sitting in the rear part of the big grandstand it really did look as if he had slipped up on four plays. Observing that not a kick was made, I made a note of the plays with the intention of asking Dinneen about them just to satisfy my own curiosity.

"Why did you call Collins safe at first, Bill, on that throw from Turner?" I asked.

"Why, there wasn't anything to that play," he said. "I'm throw, you will remember, was a trifling wild. It pulled Stovall some distance off the bag, and when he lunged back his foot was about three inches shy of touching first."

"As Stovall's foot was on the inside of the bag it was impossible to tell from the grandstand whether he had touched it or not.

"Why did you call Baker safe at second?" From the stand it looked as though the ball beat him to the bag by a yard."

"The ball beat him all right," said Bill, "but the force of the collision in touching Baker caused that young shortstop Knaupp to drop the ball.
He had of course recovered it a moment later, but not quickly enough to retire the runner."

"Why did you call Birmingham out at second when Coombs threw to catch him napping? Looked as though Joe got back to the bag before the ball reached Barry's hands."

"He got back, but not to the bag," replied Bill. "Barry had him blocked off, and Birmy slid against Barry's shoe, not the bag."

"From the grandstand it looked as if this play was one in which the umpire positively erred. Dinneen was called all kinds of uncomplimentary things for this decision also.

"Just one more, Bill. Why was Jackson out at third? It looked as if he easily beat Catcher Lapp's throw in an attempt to keep him from stealing."

"No question about his beating the throw," answered Bill. "He was safe a mile if he hadn't overslid the bag three or four inches, and allowed himself to be touched out before he was able to regain it."

"On the four plays on which Dinneen was absolutely correct he was forced to submit to all kinds of censure because the fans did not know what had really happened, and were basing their opinions merely on what they could see from a position 300 or 400 feet from the play. I must admit that the plays looked just the same to me from my seat in the grand stand."

A Moving Land.

One of the broad slopes of Mont Gringuez, France, is reported to have become detached from its foundations, and to have moved over a distance of nearly a quarter of a mile, carrying with it the soil, meadows and woods, and covering up in its passage roads and bridges that stood in the way. A chestnut grove has traveled 500 feet without suffering any apparent damage, but many small lakes have been formed by the damming of the waters.

that some headway may be made be-

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular.
I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more.
I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice.
Your letter will be absolutely confidential and the advice free.

STOP THAT DANDRUFF

before it kills your hair. You know dandruff is a germ disease and it leads slowly and surely to baldness and there is only one way to cure dandruff and that is to kill the germ that causes the trouble.

Greasy salves will never do this.
ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP kills the germ and are guaranteed to cure dandruff, itching scalp and all other germ diseases of the skin and scalp.

ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP are the true scientific remedies for these afflictions. To show our faith in ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP we have instructed the druggist selling them to refund your money if you are not satisfied with the results from the very first bottle and the first cake of soap.

We can afford to make this offer because one bottle of Zemo and one cake of soap are sufficient to show their healing qualities and if used according to directions, they will effect a permanent cure.

Sold by druggists everywhere and in Charleroi by Piper Bros.

ROOM THAT IS SOUND-PROOF

Remarkable Chamber at University of Utrecht That Was Constructed for Scientific Experiments.

The Physiological Institute of the University of Utrecht possesses one of the most remarkable rooms in the world, a chamber about seven and a half feet square, which is said to be absolutely noiseless, as far as the entrance of sounds from outside is concerned.

This room is situated on the top story of a laboratory building, and is an inside room, but so arranged that it can be ventilated and inundated with sunshine. The walls, floors and ceiling each consist of half a dozen layers of different substances, with air spaces and interstices filled with sound-deadening materials.

Some persons when in the room experience a peculiar sensation in the ears. While every effort has been made to exclude sounds that are not wanted, of course the object of constructing this singular room was to experiment with phenomena connected with sound. Some of the sounds employed are made in the room itself; others are introduced from outside by means of a copper tube, which is plugged with lead when not in use.

fashion of doing to Prof. Daniel.

The most logical conclusion about last night's game is that Joe Mason won it for the Lutherans. His team played exactly as he told them, and it was Joe that doped out just what to do and when to do it. It was Joe that decided the bunting game in the sixth would mean something and finally it was Joe that hit the two baser that brought in about three runs.

Fred Kelly, who is the assistant superintendent, now of Ford City, but who is still in Charleroi, took a day off from work so that he might get in the game.

Fagula kicked when Umpire Daniel called the fourth ball on Butz, forcing in a run, and thereupon Capt. Urban and most of the other Catholic players rushed in to argue the matter. Inasmuch as Daniel was as much right in his decision as it was possible to be on a ball too high and a trifle wide, he stuck to his decision.

Kelly got a walk in the seventh inning. Urban hit towards right field his fly ball being caught. By this time Kelly was well on his way towards second. The ball was returned to first base and Kelly was away off, but Urban rounded the corner about that time and so shuffled Sharkey as to cause him to drop the ball. Umpire Jack Mathias called the thing right, and Kelly and Urban both went back to the bench.

First Baseman Charles Mason was out of the game for some unaccountable reason. He couldn't even be discovered on the bench with a spy glass.

Miller pitched a steady game, but was at times a trifle distressed.

Kelly is the best man at working the pitcher on any of the teams. A pitcher knows he can hit and at the same time knows he is trying to get a walk. If he puts the ball Kelly will sure smash it, and if he doesn't put it over he will get a walk—and what comfort can a pitcher get out of an individual of that sort?

Deitz made a spectacular pick-up of a bouncer over second base and what's more made a quick and accurate throw to first catching his man.

Rapid Increase of Life.
As illustrating the enormous power of reproductive increase in the vegetable world, the case of a common weed, the Sisymbrium Sophia, may be cited. This weed produces three-quarters of a million seeds, and these, if they all grew and multiplied, would in three years cover the whole land surface of the globe. Darwin calculated that the slowest breeding of all animals, the elephant, would in 750 years, from a single pair, produce 19,000,000 individuals. Rabbits would, from a single pair, produce 1,000,000 individuals in four or five years.

Austrian Red Tape.
At Kopist, near Bruen, in January last a miner named Brzek risked his life in saving a boy from drowning. His heroic action cost him a severe cold, resulting in a long sickness. On the advice of friends, he appealed to the authorities for some assistance. After a delay of several weeks he received an answer informing him that he had been fined one crown because he had omitted to place the proper stamp on his petition for help. Austrian red tape could scarcely go farther.—Prague correspondence Pall Mall Gazette.

random from last May. This is a little less than the average for a like period in New York, and the percentage of those restored to the loser is very much less. Inquiries were received for only 43; the other 50 still remain unasked for.

Of course in many instances people set no value on the property lost and do not care to take the trouble to look it up. Whenever an identifying mark can be found the employees in charge notify the owner and he often replies that he will call for it if he has time, and then never does.

On the other hand there must be many persons who make no attempt to trace things because they do not realize the possibilities of success attendant upon a little effort. A letter or telegram directed to the lost and found bureau at the terminal point for your train will always be answered promptly and will often bring property with the answer.

It is a heterogeneous assortment that meets the visitor's eye in the railroad lost and found storerooms. Although it has been open less than a year the one in Pennsylvania Station in New York already resembles a well-stocked secondhand store. The prize of the collection is what was probably the sleeping accommodations of a family of immigrants. One is moved to wonder how its owner ever got such a large bundle of bedding into a car, rather than how he happened to leave it. There are innumerable hats which were probably changed for smoking caps when their wearers boarded the train, and never thought of again until they were far away.

The largest space is given to umbrellas and canes, of which there are hundreds, representing many uncomfortable scenes between their careless owners and that particular member of his or her family who always says, "where is that umbrella?" There is a goodly pile of traveling bags and pocket books, and then the list of personal effects becomes too varied for enumeration, comprising almost everything that can be carried on a train.

It matters not how old, persistent or poisonous the sore is, San Cura Ointment, the powerful antiseptic will draw out every particle of poison and promptly heal the sore.

B. D. Dutton, Titusville, Pa., says: "My arm was covered with twenty-four running sores and swollen to twice its natural size. San Cura Ointment removed the pain, drew out the poison and healed the arm in an incredibly short time. It is the greatest compound for healing I ever used."

The mighty healing powers of San Cura Ointment are little short of marvelous. Beware of Laziness.
Burton, in his famous "Anatomy of Melancholy" says: "Laziness is poison to body and mind, the ailment of eversiveness, one of the seven deadly sins: tis the devil's pillow, his bolster, his main support. A lazy dog is full of the mange, and how shall a lazy man not be otherwise? Laziness of mind is also much worse than laziness of body: an unused talent is a misfortune; and to the mind rust is a pest; hell."

STEEL COMPANY TO TAKE OVER COMBINED TRACTS

Indications continue to point to the taking over of the entire Pittsburg Coal company's holdings in Western Pennsylvania by the United States Steel corporation, after the former concern has absorbed the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal company's coal lands. Talk to this effect has been raised by the recent announcement of the purchase of 8,000 acres of the Pittsburg Coal company's steel corporation and the announcement made a few days ago by the Pittsburg Coal company by a circular to the stockholders of the company to combine to secure a consolidation of the River coal with the Pittsburg coal company.

The Pittsburg Coal company, owning more coal in Western Pennsylvania than any other company, and the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company, owning considerable coal along the Monongahela valley, have always been closely affiliated. Hence there was not much surprise when the news of the proposed absorption of the River Coal by the Pittsburg concern was made public.

It is stated that the United States Steel corporation, which has had a year contract with the Pittsburg Coal company has dissolved the contract and will secure the Pittsburg Coal to conserve. But the United States Steel corporation will need coal for their Gary, Ind., plant and a coal from the Monongahela river valley will be the most suitable. Coal along this valley is among the best to be found anywhere and is best used for cooking or steam and the Illinois coal has been found practically unsuitable by the United States Steel corporation as gas producing, but the Monongahela valley coal and coal from Western Pennsylvania can be used for that purpose.

The steel corporation would want the coal secured from the Pittsburg Coal Company for their own use and this would give the independent a better chance for the independent river trade.

Now coal is shipped from this district to New Orleans and for other southern trade by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal company. However, it has been a losing venture on account of the delay owing to low water in the Ohio river and southern competition.

Latest information has given rise to additional rumors that an opening were to be made by H. C. Frick for the United States Steel company in the vicinity of Dunlevy or Speers. It was at first stated that one of two openings to be made was to be the present Redbird mine at Dunlevy. This was later denied as the Redbird mine was being stripped of its equipment. Superintendent Peter Crockett this morning stated that stripping the mine could either mean immediate operations to be started or an abandonment of the opening altogether. At the Redbird mine 20 pound rails have been used for mine and tippie tracks. If the Frick company would begin operations there they would use 40 pound rails.

While the Dunlevy opening could be used in securing a good portion of the coal from the 8,200 acquired from the Pittsburg Coal company, still it is possible that an opening would be made elsewhere in a location considered more suitable.

WERE NOT ON WAY TO OPEN A MINE

Some excitement was caused this morning in town by a half dozen wagon loaded with what looked like miners tools being driven through on way up the river. It was thought they were wagons of the H. C. Frick company being taken in the direction of Beechwood for the purpose of starting the opening of a proposed mine there. Investigation proved that the wagons and articles in them were wagons owned by a construction company and were being sent to West Pike Run township where work will be started on a new mine.

TWENTY-FOUR APPLY FOR HIGH SCHOOL JOB

School Board to Meet Tonight for Purpose of Electing Teacher to Fill Vacancy in Faculty

MANY PUPILS EXPECTED TO ENROLL THIS YEAR

The express purpose of electing a teacher to High School to fill the vacancy made vacant by the resignation of Prof. D. C. Willard as principal and the subsequent appointment of Prof. W. A. Swack to take his place, the school board will hold a meeting tonight. At least that will be the main business to be taken up, although a number of other matters are expected to claim the attention of the directors.

There are 24 applicants for the High School position. The largest number in the history of Charleroi is indicated this fall, the probabilities being that at least 120 pupils will enroll. If this number or more actually enroll it is possible that another teacher may be needed.

Church League Executives to Play Managers

As a fitting climax to a successful season of the Charleroi Church league, a game will be played most likely between a team from the members of the executive committee and one from the managers of the church league. At a meeting of the executive committee held Monday night a committee was appointed to arrange such a contest. The executive committee is composed of such talent as Dr. Edwin McKay, W. D. Pollock, Prof. I. T. Daniel, D. C. Whitman, R. A. Roberts, John Cornell, E. A. Oates and Joseph Stech. It is likely they will have to call upon some assistant managers to help them out.

Referees and approvals of players were: Methodists add Archie Mason, release Warren Wike; Washington Avenue add J. T. Conlin, release Ed. Michner; Baptists add Harvey Adams and Robert McGowan, release Curzis Morris and Floyd Chalfant.

Lutherans Beat Catholics in a Deciding Game

Playing the game as she is played by players who know how, the Lutherans trounced off the ball ground Monday night with one of the toughest ones of the season under their belt. The game was with the Catholics, and incidentally, had enough thrills in it to last a month. Several times was it won and lost by both teams but Coach Mason's boys by a little headwork that looked nice when produced got the necessities in the sixth and held down the hard hitting Catholics in the seventh.

The Lutherans scored two in the first. After Butz had been caught between second and third and Maron had whiffed, Wertz singled to left. Stech drove him in with a three bagger. When Newton pulled off a bad throw Stech came in.

After all that there was nothing doing until the fourth inning. Then the Catholics pulled around three. Kelly was safe when Morts dropped his fly to middle. Urban got first on Miller's error, on which Kelly went third. Newton was out. Deitz singled scoring both Kelly and Urban. He went second on a throw home and came home when Demarco dropped Oates fly. The Catholics scored two in the first round. Kelly maneuvered a walk, and came the rest of the way when Urban doubled to left. Newton struck out and Deitz batted a two bagger bringing Urban in. One in the sixth completed the scoring of the Catholics. This came when Fagula landed on the ball for three sacks and came in on Sharkey's error.

When Miller was safe on McGuire's dropped ball at first in the fifth, he started negotiating for a score. He was sacrificed to second and then came around on Joe Mason's single. But the game was won in the sixth. Sharkey got a walk, and Morts attempted a sacrifice which was fumbled by Bena. making both men safe. Demarco bunted and Bena threw to third trying the impossible feat of getting Sharkey at that corner. Fleming hit the horsehide and a throw was made home, Sharkey being caught. Miller fouled out. Butz was presented with four wide ones and a run forced in. Thereupon Joseph Mason

OHADA BOY MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED

Believing that Glenn O'Hara, alias Glenn Harriott the little son of Walter O'Hara, who was drowned in a well near his home a short distance from Venetia on July 12, came to his death as a result of foul play, the coroner's jury at the inquest Monday conducted by Acting Coroner T. C. Rebout, recommended that the Washington county commissioners set aside a suitable sum of money to be used as a reward for the apprehension of the guilty person.

Acting Coroner Rebout who worked on the case from the time it was reported until Monday had secured all the witnesses who seemed to know anything whatever of the mystery in connection with the death of the child but none seemed able to give any direct testimony although several of the witnesses intimated in their testimony that there was something radically wrong in the child's death.

The little fellow disappeared in the morning about 9 o'clock and his body was not found until the following midnight. The well was covered over and the boards were not displaced when the searching parties went to look in the well. There was no way apparent that the child could have fallen into the well. It had been intimated that the child might have been thrown in the well but there is nothing to establish this, and the inquest failed to bring out anything.

The child was the son of Walter O'Hara, of Venetia, and of Delia Fiz, of Canonsburg, the father and mother being divorced. The father is remarried. Before the death of the child, Glen, Mr. O'Hara had two children by his first wife, and Mrs. O'Hara, who had been married before has one child by her first marriage. In addition to these children they have one child by their recent marriage. The well was about 12 feet deep and covered over.

MANY ARTICLES ARE TURNED IN

Lost articles are turned in to the parcel room at Pennsylvania Station in New York City at the rate of about twenty a day. Three thousand six hundred and thirty such articles were received between the time the station was opened, November 27, 1910 and July 12, 1911. So far, the most valuable find was a pocket book containing $144 which was immediately claimed by its owner.

Approximately eighteen out of the twenty parcels received daily at this station are called for. When they are brought in they are registered in a book, a duplicate ticket is given to the finder, and a tag bearing the same form and number is attached. If at the end of ninety days, the owner has not appeared, they go back to the finder. Of course it is impossible to keep perishable goods and these are given to the finder after twelve hours.

In December 1910, there were 1,204 losses recorded at Broad Street Station in Philadelphia. Eight hundred and six of these have been returned to their owners. On May 25th of this year there were thirty pieces of lost property picked up; on the 26th and 27th there were 39 and 31 respectively. Of these 18 of the first day's were reclaimed, 10 the second and eight the third.

The books in the Union Station, Pittsburg show that 93 items were recorded during five days taken at

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED

Miss Martha A. Vetter and Isaac Farrow go to Pittsburg to Wed

Leaving quietly and almost unknown to their friends, Miss Martha A. Vetter, the popular and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Vetter, of Washington avenue, and Isaac R. Farrow went to Pittsburg Monday where they were married. Thereupon they left for a wedding trip to Canada. They will go to Toronto, Can., where the groom's home is and take up their residence.

Both the bride and groom bear a wide acquaintanceship in this vicinity. The bride has been employed in Schafer's Jewelry store. The groom was for a time employed at Henning's Pharmacy.

Monday night, it is evident that the
gaits for the National game in the towns. From the impending collapse of a number of the teams in the minor leagues of the smaller cities in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern
Ohio it is more than evident that professional baseball outside of the big
centers of population is too expensive a luxury. This Charleroi has earned its sorrow.

The church league, however, when
rigidly maintained with regular dis-
developing and maintaining amateur
baseball. It has been somewhat dif-
from overstepping the others in the matter of maintaining an even balance, but while these teams through peculiar conditions have been en-
with the big leagues. This condition
the more acute in the final windup.
As stated on numerous other occasions, the games are delightful recreation for the people. They fur-
intense local interest. The expense
is but nominal, and the enjoyment
and satisfaction is as great as in professional baseball. The church league or similar organizations where amateurs play the game for the sport
there is in it, is destined to take the
the big centers of population.

From the trend of operations that
shaping up for the ultimate absorption of the Pittsburg coal company
by the United States Steel corporation. First it is up to the stockholders to effect a consolidation of
the two subsidiary coal companies, and which the big steel company has long exercised a sphere of influence,

to take place.

Nothing is more natural than this
absorption. The big steel corpora-
must have a large and regular supply of the Pittsburg coal for its first-class
steam, gas and coke producing qual-
holdings while large are being ex-
market, and the big Steel corporation
for its own use exclusively. Capable
ed that in rushing out this coal at the present rate to cater to the general
market will exhaust the supply in
is up to the Steel corporation to con-
a matter of economy. The development of the gas producer now figures extensively in manufactur-
one can be expected to do this as the Pittsburg coal.

only mine coal for its own use if
this absorption takes place, opera-
open market. At the present time
one-half more mines are in opera-
general demoralization of the coal
market. A change of any kind could hardly make conditions worse.

The man who can sleep soundly in a street car should not have much trouble if fate designed him for
freight car transportation.

There certainly ought to be some
legislation against these jim-jam automobile whistles. Jim-jam because they give a person the jim-jams.

the members of the Rivers and Har-
nine-foot stage was needed.

It isn't so difficult to persuade peo-
you have established the fact that you are looney.

This year has been a particularly
down around Washington, D. C.

now declared to be a thing of the past.
All the "I-told-you-sos" kindly wise and proclaim themselves and have it all over with?

Some cigars smell like the animal
tent of a circus after a day's camping.

Artist Earle made the mistake of
his life when he wasn't made a Mor-
man in a Mormon country. Then he
desired please and it would be religious, too.

Maybe it's Madero's whiskers that
are driving his followers to revel
shucks.

There is nobody who has a better op-
away with his side of the argument
all the same.

trust isn't it with a baseball league.

umpire's decisions in the game between the Lutherans and Catholics
of the Church League Monday night,
Billy Evans one of the leading American League umpires, gives some
month's issue of Pearson's Magazine.
"During the progress of the game,"
ious plays as is the umpire. Perhaps he is more competent, but if

pines are so decidedly scarce and so much in demand

"I happened to have an off day in
on my brother umpires 'Bull' Perrine and Bill Dinneen had been assigned to the game. I told them I intended to take a seat in the grand stand and they both

laughingly assented.
"Bill Dinneen worked the bases and
it seemed as if every decision was
close. Philadelphia was the opposing team, and despite the closeness
ers. Cleveland was losing, however,
over several of the rulings on the bases by Dinneen. Firm where I was sitting in the rear part of the big grandstand it really did look as if I had slipped up on four plays. Observing that not a kick was made, I made a note of the plays with the intention of asking Dinneen about them
just to satisfy my own curiosity.

"Why did you call Collins safe at first. Bill, on that throw from Turner?" I asked.

"Why, there wasn't anything to that play," he said. "One throw, you will remember, was a trifle wild. It pulled Stovall some distance off the
touching first."

had touched it or not.

as though the ball beat him to the
bag by a yard."

"The ball beat him all right," said
shortstop Knaupp to drop the ball.
He had of course recovered it a moment later, but not quickly enough
to retire the runner."

"Why did you call Birmingham out at second when Combs threw to catch him napping? Looked as though Joe got back to the bag before the ball reached Barry's hands."

"He got back, but not to the bag,"
replied Bill. "Barry had him blocked
shoe, not the bag."

"From the grandstand it looked as
umpire positively erred. Dinneen
was called all kinds of uncomplimen-
tary things for this decision also.

"Just one more, Bill. Why was Jackson out at third? It looked as
stealing."

"No question about his beating
safe a mile if he hadn't overslid the
bag three or four inches, and allowed himself to be touched out be-

"On the four plays on which Din-
forced to submit to all kinds of cen-
what had really happened, and were
400 feet from the play. I must admit that the plays looked just the
grand stand."

A Moving Land.

One of the broad slopes of Mont
become detached from its foundations,
and to have moved over a distance
with it the soil, meadows and woods,
and bridges that stood in the way. A
without suffering any apparent dam-
formed by the damming of the waters.

Barnard.

It is hoped that work on the Bells-ville-Zollarsville road, which is to be improved will soon be started so that some headway may be made before the bad weather sets in. This is one of the worst roads in the community and has been in need of repairs for years.

The majority of the schools in the was the year for the "14-year locusts," but this truth was unfounded.

Harvesting is progressing nicely at the present time and before the close of the week much will be done.

The Physiological institute of the University of Utrecht possesses one of the most remarkable rooms in the world, a chamber about seven and a half feet square, which is said to be absolutely noiseless, as far as the entrance of sounds from outside is concerned.

This room is situated on the top story of a laboratory building, and is an inside room but so arranged that it can be ventilated and inundated with sunshine. The walls, floors and ceiling each consist of half a dozen layers of different substances, with air spaces and in services filled with sound-deadening materials. Some persons when in the room experience a peculiar sensation in the ears. While every effort has been made to exclude sounds that are not wanted, of course the object of constructing this singular room was to experiment with phenomena connected with sound. Some of the sounds employed are made in the room itself; others are introduced from outside by means of a copper tube which is plugged with lead when not in use.

The most logical conclusion about last night's game is that Joe Mason won it for the Lutherans. His team played exactly as he told them, and it was Joe that doped out just what to do and when to do it. It was Joe that decided the bunting game in the sixth would mean something and finally it was Joe that hit the two baser that brought in about three runs

Fred Kelly, who is the assistant superintendent, now of Ford City, but who is still in Charleroi, took a day off from work so that he might get in the game

Fagula Kicked when Umpire Daniel called the fourth ball on Butz, forcing in a run, and thereupon Capt. Urban and most of the other Catholic players rushed in to argue the matter. Inasmuch as Daniel was as much right in his decision as it was possible to be on a ball too high and a trifle wide, he stuck to his decision.

Kelly got a walk in the seventh inning. Urban hit towards right field his fly ball being caught. By this time Kelly was well on his way towards second. The ball was returned to first base and Kelly was away off, but Urban rounded the corner about that time and so shuffled Sharkey as to cause him to drop the ball. Umpire Jack Mathas called the thing right, and Kelly and Urban both went back to the bench

First Baseman Charles Mason was out of the game for some unaccountable reason. He couldn't even be discovered on the bench with a spy glass.

Kelly is the best man at working the pitcher on any of the teams. A pitcher knows he can hit and at the same time knows he is trying to get a walk. If he puts the ball Kelly will sure smash it, and if he doesn't put it over he will get a walk—and what comfort can a pitcher get out of an individual of that sort?

Deitz made a spectacular pick-up of a bounder over second base and what's more made a quick and accurate throw to first catching his man.

As illustrating the enormous powers of reproductive increase in the vegetable world, the case of a common weed, the Sisymbrium, may be cited. This weed produces three-quarters of a million seeds, and these, if they all grew and multiplied, would in three years cover the whole land surface of the globe. Darwin calculated that the slowest breeding of all animals, the elephant, would in 750 years, from a single pair, produce 19,000,000 individuals. Rabbits would from a single pair, produce 1,000,000 individuals in four or five years.

At Kopist, near Bruen, in January last a miner named Brzek risked his life in saving a boy from drowning. His heroic action cost him a severe cold, resulting in a long sickness. On the advice of friends, he appealed to the authorities for some assistance. After a delay of several weeks he received an answer informing him that he had been fined one crown because he had omitted to place the proper stamp on his petition for help. Austrian red tape could scarcely go farther.—Prague correspondence Pall Mall Gazette random from last May. This is a little less than the average for a like period in New York, and the percentage of those restored to the loser is very much less. Inquiries were received for only 43; the other 50 still remain unasked for.

Of course in many instances people set no value on the property lost and do not care to take the trouble to look it up. Whenever an identifying mark can be found the employees in charge notify the owner and he often replies that he will call for it if he has time, and then never does.

On the other hand there must be many persons who make no attempt to trace things because they do not realize the possibilities of success attendant upon a little effort. A letter or telegram directed to the lost and found office in your train will always be answered promptly and will often bring property with the answer.

It is a heterogeneous assortment that meets the visitor's eye in the railroad lost and found storerooms. Although it has been open less than a year the one in Pennsylvania Station in New York already resembles a well-stocked secondhand store. The prize of the collection is what was probably the sleeping accommodations of a family of immigrants. One is moved to wonder how its owner ever got such a large bundle of bedding into a car, rather than how he happened to leave it. There are innumerable hats which were probably changed for smoking caps when their wearers boarded the train, and never thought of again until they were far away.

The largest space is given to umbrellas and canes, of which there are hundreds, representing many uncomfortable scenes between their careless owners and that particular member of his or her family who always says, "where is that umbrella?" There is a goodly pile of traveling bags and pocket books, and then the list of personal effects becomes too varied for enumeration, comprising almost everything that can be carried on a train.

Beware of Laziness.
Burton in his famous "Anatomy of Melancholy" says: "Laziness is poison to body and mind, the ailment of everiness, one of the seven deadly sins, the devil's pillow, the bolster, the main support. A lazy dog is full of the mange, and how shall a lazy man not be otherwise? Laziness of body is also much worse than laziness of mind, an unused talent is a misfortune, and to the mind rust is a pest, hell."
